DEGREE

OBJECTIVES

Objectives of the Veterinary Technology Bachelor of Science program are designed to augment the AASVT program as well as support the mission of Globe University/Minnesota School of Business. Specifically, providing advanced educational opportunities within the veterinary technology profession, encouraging lifelong learning among veterinary technology students, and providing training beyond entry-level skills that will allow graduates increased employment opportunities are main goals of this new program.

Students possessing an Associate of Applied Science degree and a current Veterinary Technician certification are not required to take any courses in the Associate of Applied Science degree at Globe University/Minnesota School of Business.
